

The COVID-19 outbreak, and related emergency legislation, are causing a wide variety of workplace challenges. Employers and employees are trying to deal with major business changes: remote working, layoffs, closings, leaves of absence, and a host of new laws.

Join employment law attorneys from Barrett & Farahany and Stanton Law in a live webinar as they discuss specific workplace situations from both the employer's and employee's perspectives.

HELPING EMPLOYERS AND EMPLOYEES UNDERSTAND
NEW RIGHTS AND OBLIGATIONS RELATED TO
CORONAVIRUS/COVID-19

Hosted by Employment Law Attorneys from
Barrett & Farahany and Stanton Law

Join us as plaintiff's and defense counsel come together to discuss ways to help keep those on both sides of the equation informed and updated.

Register Today!

Date: Friday, March 27, 2020

Time: 11:30 AM

The attorneys will review these topics, as well as questions submitted by attendees:

- Helping employers and employees navigate furloughs, layoffs, and shutdowns
- Requesting and administering paid sick leave and other medical leave
- Impacts to employees and families sick with coronavirus
- Family obligations and remote working
- Communicating and following coronavirus policies

Register Now

Barrett & Farahany

404.487.0922

1100 Peachtree Street NE, Suite 500
Atlanta, GA 30309-4501

