EMPLOYMENT LAW – EMPLOYEE

BARRETT & FARAHANY

Employers are powerful. But it's the employees' hard work and dedication that make the employer's success possible. Barrett & Farahany attorneys never forget that. Their core belief is that employees should be treated with justice, and they fight to make even the largest employers do just that.

Barrett & Farahany is the oldest and largest law firm in the Southeast exclusively devoted to protecting employee rights. The attorneys know that in employment disputes, employees' family lives are often at stake. They stand ready to help—by understanding their clients' situations, fighting fiercely on their behalf, and ensuring that clients feel empowered by the experience.

Barrett & Farahany attorneys handle the full range of employment disputes with the utmost expertise and discretion.

They help their clients successfully navigate the complexities of executive compensation, promotions and other issues and litigate on behalf of all employees. The firm's success comes from supporting people, not companies.
